Xiamen University (XMU), founded in 1921 by Mr. Tan Kah Kee, a renowned overseas Chinese entrepreneur and philanthropist in Southeast Asia, was the first Chinese higher educational institution established by an overseas Chinese. It is the only university in China's five Special Economic Zones that enjoys privileged support from China's Ministry of Education for participation in "Project 211" (a state endeavor to facilitate the development of some 100 higher educational institutions as a national priority for the 21st century) and "Project 985" (a national project for building world-class universities, announced in May 1998, with 39 participating universities). Since 2014, XMU has been playing host to two collaborative innovation centres of the highly competitive national "Project 2011" (the Higher Education Innovation Capacity Improvement Scheme initiated in 2011).
